Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not disolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

THE PRESIDENT DEFIANT.

Three members of the U. S. Senate have received letters from President Roosevelt within the last few days declaring his supremacy, as commander-in-chief, in all matters referring to the control of the army and navy. The letters have created intense feeling in the Senate, and it is not unlikely that they will precipitate a conference of republican members. The letters in every case are in defense of his course in discharging without honor the negro soldiers he believed to be guilty of shooting up the town of Brownsville, Texas, and his action in banishing Col. William F. Steward to an abandoned military post in a desert section of Arizona.

Senator Flint, of California, called on the president last week to intercede for Colonel Stewart, and was told that the case was finally disposed of. Then Senator Briggs, of New Jersey, and afterward Senator Dupont, of Delaware, called on Mr. Roosevelt. In each case they were told that the word had been spoken.

In his letter to Senator Raynor, Mr. Roosevelt has insisted on absolute privacy but Mr. Rayner is determined to push his case. He believes that Mr. Roosevelt is wholly and radically wrong in his assumption that the Senate cannot direct him to give Colonel Stewart a court of inquiry. His fight in the Senate will be wholly on that point. He has studied the law and the precedents and has found more than a score of precedents, which, he believes, will show the president that the Senate has the power, and has repeatedly exercised the power, in connection with the House, to compel an unwilling president to grant an officer a court of inquiry.

It is the purpose of the senators who resent Mr. Roosevelt's defiant attitude in the matter of right to control the army to make Mr. Rayner's resolution the issue. They will line up behind him in his fight, and they believe that by passing the resolution which Mr. Rayner will introduce next week to compel the president to give Colonel Stewart a chance to be heard before a court they will effectually prove to the president his limitations.

Despite the intense irritation of the senators, it is not at all likely that any of them will carry into execution threats of impeachment or even the passage of a resolution of censure.

SUCCESSFUL FYING MACHINE.

With their flying machine under perfect control, the Wright brothers yesterday soared over the sand dunes at Kill-Devil Hill near Manteo, N. C., with the ease of a bird. They made as many as ten ascensions, and, although all were of short duration and distance, for the purpose of continuing the experiments with the new design of steering gear, the machine at all times responded to its pilot's will.

Not once was there serious trouble in launching the machine and its alighting, heretofore one of the serious problems in aeronautics, was always accomplished with ease and without accident. Not once did the machine descend before it was so directed by the skillful hand of the navigator.

The two Wrights took turns about in making ascents. They showed equal skill in handling the machine. At no time did it appear necessary to direct the machine to the ground. Apparently, it could have continued its flight for many miles.

The longest flight yesterday was for a distance of a mile and a half. It took about two minutes to make that flight. The speed of the machine is calculated at between forty and sixty miles an hour. As to the distance it is capable of flying that would be governed by its fuel capacity. The capacity of the present machine is easily great enough to carry it for several hundred miles.

Its manner of acting in the air is very much like that of a bird in flight. It can be turned to the right or to the left, made to soar high or low at the will of the navigator, and can be directed over any point.

SOCIALIST CONVENTION.

Appropriation of the prohibition party's main issue will be attempted by the socialists, who meet in national convention in Chicago next week. The Minnesota delegation, it is learned, intends to present a plank for incorporation in the socialist party's platform pledging the socialists to prohibition, and a strong sentiment is declared to exist among the leaders of the party in favor of making prohibition a socialist issue.

There are expected to be 219 delegates and almost as many alternates at the convention, including lots of women and a sprinkling of millionaires.

There are numerous candidates for the nomination for president, those most talked of being Eugene V. Debs, of Indiana, and William D. Haywood, of Colorado.

The delegates expect to be called upon to decide whether an amalgamation shall be made with the socialist labor party.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 9, 1908

As a last recourse the backers of the ship subsidy bill in Congress have determined if possible to get it on the statute book by offering it in the Senate as a rider on the postoffice appropriation bill. The subsidy proposition, carrying an appropriation of $4,668,862, is artfully concealed from sight under the cover of so-called mail-carrying contracts. There is one chance in a hundred that the scheme may succeed in the hurry and confusion that usually attend the sittings of Congress in the last days of the session. Aside from the objectionable character of the bill itself, the discreditable method adopted in trying to give it safe conduct, hidden under the cloak of a necessary measure should put its opponents on guard. It cannot get through either the Senate or the House if the democratic minority shall not fail in proper vigilance.

REPRESENTATIVE BARTHOLDT, republican, of Missouri, made before the judiciary committee of the House last week the astonishing statement that not less than 2,500 persons pay liquor licenses and taxes in the prohibition State of Maine. Whereupon Representative Littlefield contradicted him with the official statement that the liquor licenses paid to the federal government in Maine last year were only 364 in number! This makes a government liquor license for every 800 inhabitants of that prohibitory State. The fact goes to show that a great deal of alcoholic liquor, independently of cider and beer, is needed for medicine or for something else in Maine.

THE Supreme Court, in the Minnesota rate case, lays down a proposition which, if applied to President Roosevelt, might make him squirm. It says: "If the act which the attorney-general seeks to enforce be a violation of the federal constitution, the officer, in proceeding under such enactment, comes into conflict with the superior authority of that constitution; and he is in that case stripped of his official or representative character, and is subjected in his person to the consequences of his individual conduct." Where would Mr. Roosevelt stand if this principle was applied to his conduct?

THE president has written letters to Senators Rayner, Stewart and Smith, of Michigan, in which he declares his supremacy and that he is commander-in-chief of the army and had the right to take the action he did in the Brownsville affair and in the case of Colonel Stewart. The letters have created intense feeling in the Senate, and it is not unlikely that they will precipitate a conference of republican members, but the president does not care a rap for this and with his big stick maintains any position he may take.

THE steamer Trenton, which went to the bottom of the river without a moment's warning while lying at her wharf in this city last Sunday morning, is still where she sank and such efforts that have been made to raise her have proved failures. The steamer should have been raised within twenty-four hours after she went down and there is no good reason for this delay. Her sinking was almost inexplicable but there is no excuse for the vessel being allowed to remain as an obstruction to navigation.

SO FAR but one lone republican has signed his name to the petition drawn up by Minority Leader John Sharp Williams, praying that Speaker Cannon recognize a democrat or a republican to call up the Stevens bill providing that wood pulp and print paper be placed on the free list. The republican who has thus distinguished himself is Representative William H. Parker, of South Dakota, who is serving his first term in the House and who says his constituents favor tariff reform.

THE republican leaders are practically committed to the Aldrich currency bill, and since the majority of the House is opposed to this Standard Oil measure, some pretended substitute, making its provisions still more favorable to the Standard's interests, will probably be forced through in the name of currency reform.

THE president insists that Congress shall make "an honest effort" to do something; and Congress insists that the president shall make an honest effort to mind his own business. But no honest effort will be made for reform by either party, except what the democrats will do.

Alleged Shortage.

Williamsport, Pa., May 9.—At Sunbury, Pa., today a warrant for the arrest and a writ for the seizure of the personal property of Francis M. Broome, head bookkeeper for the Sunbury Trust and Safe Deposit Company, were issued, alleging a shortage of $10,000. Broome disappeared on the afternoon after a bank examiner found discrepancies in his books. He has a wife and six children.

From Washington.

Washington, D. C., May 9.

W. M. Rayner, general manager of the audit system of New York, the concern whose contract with the government printing office was recently annulled with the approval of President Roosevelt and W. E. Brasher, investigator of conditions in the printery, appeared today before the House committee on printing. Chairman Landis questioned the witness as to the increase in the clerical force after the audit system had obtained an additional contract with the printing office, for the taking of a complete and analytical inventory. This inventory taken under this second contract which was made April 15, 1907, imposed an additional cost on the government of $1,250 per week, the system getting under its first agreement $700 a week, and under the new one $1,950 per week. Rayner said he did not know just how many men in addition to his old force he had put on after the new contract was entered into. The committee further endeavored to find if any relations existed between Rayner and former Public Printer Charles A. Stilling, during whose term of office the audit system was installed in the government printing office. Rayner denied knowing Stillings more than slightly. Rayner intimated to the committee that his company intends to sue the government on account of the cancellation of its contract before the time limit had run thereon. The attorney for the audit system stated that that concern has a valid claim on the United States for close to $10,000 which has not been paid. It was not made known when this suit will be instituted.

Coincident with the action of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, hauling down his flag this morning as commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet upon the successful termination of the cruise, and thus ending his active career at sea, after nearly half a century spent in the service of his country, the Navy Department made public the full correspondence between the Washington authorities and Admiral Evans regarding his detachment from command. In this correspondence Admiral Evans has been expressed congratulations by the president and Secretary Metcalf, both of whom announce their deep regret that the state of his health has made it necessary for him to abandon the sea before the date of his retirement for age. By special direction of the president Admiral Evans has been given carte blanche leave to spend the remainder of the time till he is 62 years of age August 18 next in any manner that pleases him best.

The conferees on the naval appropriation bill have reached a tentative agreement on the proposed increase of pay for the officers and men of the United States naval service and at a meeting on Monday will authorize a report. The increase will amount to about fifteen per cent. over present pay in the lower grades and ten per cent. in the upper. An effort was made to so arrange the scale as to equalize the pay of officers of the navy and army of the same relative rank.

The president is said to have written a letter to a Senator in which he said he will veto the pending Foraker bill to permit the restoration of the negro soldiers if it passed and will ignore the dictum of Congress if its measure is re-enacted over his veto.

As a part of the effort to suppress anarchy and "king killers" in this country, it is proposed to enlarge the powers of the Postoffice Department.

SENATE.

Senator Kean had moved to substitute the fifth commandment, "Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother."

Mr. Teller said he would rather vote for the Fifth Commandant then the other suggestion.

Mr. Burkett said he had offered the resolution at the request of some Y. M. C. A. workers, who are trying to establish a Mothers' Day.

Mr. Fulton who moved reference to the committee, said:

"There are some things so sacred that they are belittled by such a movement. If we are going into this thing, there should be a father's day and a grandfather's day and then bring in our cousins, our uncles, and our aunts. There is no reason for individious distinction. Everybody will agree that there should be a mother-in-law's day."

Mr. Gallinger said he never heard of this movement and he did not need to wear a flower to remind him of his mother.

Mr. Teller, agreeing with Mr. Gallinger, said every day was mother's day with him.

Senator Foraker today gave notice in the Senate that on Monday he would move to take up his bill for the reinstatement of the 167 negro soldiers dismissed for alleged participation in the Brownsville rioting and make it the unfinished business.

Not Mrs. Gunness.

Franklin, Pa., May 9.—Mrs. F. B. Herron, arrested in Syracuse, N. Y., on suspicion of being Mrs. Belle Gunness, the La Porte arch murderess, lives in the country about eight miles from here. She resides with her mother. Mrs. Herron was reared in this vicinity, and is well-known. Her husband died in the south last winter, and Mrs. Herron brought the body here for burial. Since then she has been in Chicago most of the time, but had arranged to spend the summer with her mother.

La Porte, Ind., May 9.—After a careful and scientific examination of the body now held by the coroner and generally supposed to be that of Mrs. Belle Gunness, Dr. Harry H. Long, of La Porte, who had known the woman in life, today stated unqualifiedly that the burned torso was not that of the mistress of the La Porte "house of horrors."

Light was thrown on the Gunness murder mystery today when Pinkerton detectives examined sixty letters written by Mrs. Gunness to Ray Lamphere, the farm hand under arrest here on the charge of burning the Gunness home and killing its occupants. The letters were found in Lamphere's trunk which had been concealed in the hayloft of the Wheatbrook farm six miles from the Gunness place. The trunk had been hidden under the hay in a corner of the loft. Lamphere showed great excitement when told that his trunk and the letters had been found and immediately declared that he would make a confession. Lamphere further said: "There are a lot of things I could tell that would throw light on Mrs. Gunness' life and still not hurt my case, but I will not say anything until I have seen my lawyer."

Lillian Kalish, aged 17, of Brooklyn, vanished at the same time. Her father suspected that she had gone away with Allers. Last night he met the couple on the street. Turning his daughter over to his son for safe keeping, he spanked Allers until a policeman, attracted by the unusal sight, came up. He knew that a charge had been lodged against Allers and took him to the station house.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the Birmingham reunion has issued warnings to the people to beware of the oblong battle flags. The committee has made arrangements to make Birmingham during the reunion a brilliant and variegated vista of waving flags and floating bunting.

ANNOYED BY NOBLEMEN.

Annoyed by impecunious noblemen desirous of obtaining a share of her fortune, Miss Jane Baland Sutherland, an heiress from Gainesville, Fla., is about to set out on a secret trip, accompanied by her chaperon, Miss Mary Nolan, in the hope that the titled persons who have been trying to win good American dollars with little work may be lost for good.

The young woman, with her chaperon, has been stopping in New York, but she left last night. Miss Sutherland has been known as one of the prettiest girls in the south. She is 24 years old, a blonde, with beautiful blue eyes and a splendid voice. Two years ago she inherited a large fortune from her father. Immediately the young heiress went to Europe, and there, about a year ago, she met a number of men of title and no fortune. Her beauty, together with her reputation for wealth, was more than sufficient to interest the noblemen. Several of them became her shadows.

The girl did all she could to get rid of the persistent suitors without avail. As a last resort she returned to America. For a time the girl, with Miss Nolan, lived in seclusion at a hotel in New York. She thought her troubles over. Then one day she lost a valuable heirloom, a platinum bracelet. The bracelet was worth $600, but practically priceless to the owner because of its associations. She advertised widely. Inquiries came and she answered them. Through these answers several of her foreign suitors learned of her whereabouts.

NEGRO TAKES WHITE WOMAN.

A couple from Virginia apparently have carried out the principles advocated at the New York Cosmopolitan Club dinner, at which black and white guests mingled freely, and at which intermarriage of the races was advocated. The case came to light in Washington on Thursday.

The police are asked to locate a negro, Henry C. Smith, who, his wife, Nettie Smith, asserted, had eloped from Basic City, with a white woman. The officers say they have found the pair in an F street house. The woman gave her name as Josephine Sprouse. Both of the prisoners acknowledged that they came from Basic City.

WANTS TEN THOUSAND A YEAR.

Just how easy it is for a 17-year-old school girl to spend $10,000 a year on maintenance was explained yesterday by Miss Olga Roosevelt, a relative of President Roosevelt, who has applied to the courts in New York to increase her allowance from her $1,000,000 estate from $5,000 to $10,000 a year. "There are as many ways of spending money as there are ways of spending time," she explained. "I am fond of flowers and an occasional dinner party. All these things count, you know. My wardrobe cost me more than $2,500 last year. I found myself quite stinted on my $5,000 allowance."

Schofield of Washington Aerie, No. 125. The stage setting will be under the direction of Jacob Johnson conductor of Washington Aerie, No. 125.

The committee on arrangements is composed of Thomas Chauncey, chairman; E. J. Fleming, Walter E. Jacobson, Bernard B. Cline, John A. Rice, Jacob Brill, John R. Travers, Dr. S. B. Moore, R. F. Knox, jr., and J. D. Normoyle.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT.

A very attractive musical programme was rendered by a large chorus in the Second Presbyterian Church last night. A fine orchestra was present. There were several special selections sung as quartettes duets and solos. The programme was as follows: Choir, The Lord's Prayer; congregation, "The Son's of God Goes forth to War;" duet, "An Heir of God," Mrs. Field and Dr. Outcalt; choir, "Looking Upward;" quartette, "Gently Lead Us," Misses Moore and Graves, Mr. Godfrey and Dr. Outcalt; choir, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth;" prayer; solo, "Building, Daily Building," Miss Moore; choir, "God is Love;" quartette, "Call for the Reapers," Miss Jackson, Mrs. Field, Messrs. Mesick and Slaymaker; address by pastor; duet, "Will There be Light," Miss Graves and Mr. Kennedy; choir, "Open Wide the Door;" choir, "By Grace are ye Saved;" solo, "The Bird with the Broken Wing," Miss Graves; choir, "Trusting in Thee;" congregation, "The day is Dying in the West." prayer.

MUSICAL.

The studio and parlors of Mrs. Oscar Carter's residence on Washington street were crowded last evening with the relatives and friends of her music scholars, invited to attend the annual recital given by her class. The interesting programme was a success in every particular, each number being rendered with grace and accuracy which reflected credit alike on pupil and teacher. From little Miss Schneider, aged seven, a pupil of only two months, to the advanced scholars of the tenth grade, all showed the result of thorough and effective training.

THE SUNKEN STEAMER.

The work of raising the sunken steamer Trenton was progressing satisfactorily yesterday afternoon when one of the scows sprung a leak and it was necessary to cease operations temporarily. Today other scows and heavier chains were procured, and it is believed the steamer will soon be raised sufficiently high to be placed in a dock where she can be pumped out.

MALT BEVERAGE.

The establishment in Manassas of a malt beverage agency by the Portner Brewing Company has created considerable excitement in that local option community and the temperance people there threaten to prosecute the Portner Company for violating the liquor laws. Dispatches from Manassas to many of the papers in the State have been published with display head lines that would lead the public to believe that a beer saloon had been opened in a "dry" town in defiance of law, and that the "demon rum" was holding high carnival in that staid community. When approached on the subject today, a representative of the Portner Brewing Company said that the sensational dispatches sent out from Manassas were false and misleading. While it was true that the company had established an agency there for the sale of malt beverage, it was being conducted strictly in accordance with the law passed by the last legislature authorizing the manufacture and sale of malt beverage, a non intoxicating drink. That malt beverage is defined by law as containing less than two and one quarter per cent of alcohol and their malt beverage is guaranteed under the national pure food law to contain less than two per cent. As a matter of fact it has not more than one and one-half per cent., which would be about an ounce to half a gallon of the beverage, much less than is in many so-called soft drinks. That the provisions of the law regulating its sale in quantities of not less than six bottles or more than four dozen, not to be drunk where sold, and to be sold in special bottles only with the words "malt beverage" and the name and address of the manufacturer blown thereon, had been strictly adhered to and there was no more orderly or better conducted store in Manassas than theirs. The opinion was expressed that when the people understood that this was not an intoxicating drink and its use would discourage the consumption of ardent spirits, they would view the subject in an entirely different light.

FINED TEN DOLLARS.

A young white man was before the Police Court this morning charged with disorderly conduct toward the chief engineer of the fire department and for assaulting that official. The chief in his statement said that during the fire last Wednesday night, the accused accosted him twice and requested that he summon forty men to carry a gasoline launch which had recently been constructed to a place of safety. The chief told the young man he could not comply with his request, when he became abusive and later struck him. The young man in his defense denied some portions of the chief's charges. He said a dozen men could have carried the launch to a place of safety, and that the chief caught hold of the lappel of his coat before he struck him. Justice Caton fined the accused $10. The launch was uninjured by the fire.

PRIZE CONTEST.

The Wallace prize contest for public speaking was held last night by the senior class of the Episcopal Theological Seminary. One hour before the time for speaking came, each candidate was given his subject, upon which he could speak for ten minutes. To teach readiness in debate was the idea. There were five judges—Messrs. J. M. Johnson and S. G. Brent, of this city, and Rev. Paca Kennedy, of the Seminary; Mr. G. S. Shackelford, of the High School, and Mr. Overton Price, of Alexandria county. Ten students competed and the prizes were won by Wm. Russell Bowie and Charles Clingman. The subject appointed was "The Twentieth Century minister, his task and outlook," and the contest was one of the best ever held at the Seminary.

BODY FLOATING IN THE RIVER.

A body, believed to be either that of Van D. Canada, the missing Glen Echo postmaster, or M. Keis Kemethy, the Washington photographer, who has been missing for some time, was seen floating in the river between Bryan's Point and Marshall Hall, about 7 o'clock yesterday evening, by Capt. R. N. Veeder, of the United States Fish Commission steamer Phalarope. Owing to the swiftness of the current, the body was washed out of sight before it could be secured. Some think it possible that the corpse is that of some one who was drowned on the steamer Trenton. Henry B. Smith, a telegraph operator, of Washington, is thought to have been on the steamer Trenton, and it is said he may have gone down with the boat.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

William Porter and William Duckett, both colored, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, were fined $5 each.

Joseph Timbers, Catherine Timbers and "Sister" Newman, all colored, charged with disorderly conduct, had their case continued.

A young white man, charged with assaulting the chief engineer of the fire department, was fined $10.

ANNIVERSARY.

The first anniversary of the organization of the Bethany Methodist Protestant Church was held last night in the R. E. Lee Camp Hall on Prince street and was largely attended. A very interesting musical and literary programme was rendered, after which the pastor, Rev. W. M. Poisel, responded in a pleasing address to the welcome of his congregation. The members and friends of the church then tendered the pastor's wife a beautiful bouquet of roses. The evening closed with refreshments, which were served in the prettily decorated rooms of the hall.

AMUSING PICTURES.

A large audience witnessed the moving pictures of the Alexandria Amusement Company last night. The exhibition was greatly enjoyed, and the pictures were pronounced among the most interesting and amusing ever seen hereabouts. Mrs. Fannie C. Fisher, the popular contralto, will begin an engagement Monday night. Tonight and Monday "The Cowboy and the School Marm" will be repeated.

The other property advertised for sale today was withdrawn.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE CITY.

In the Circuit Court for the city, Judge A. M. Aiken, of Danville, presiding, yesterday evening in the case of R. M. Cheshire vs. the Washington Southern Railway Co., a suit for damages for personal injuries sustained by plaintiff having his hand injured in the turn table, the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $1,000. A motion for an arrest of judgment and for a new trial was overruled and an appeal noted.

Today, Judge J. B. T. Thornton presiding, in the case of Hannah L. Smith vs. G. Mason Smith, a final decree was entered granting plaintiff a divorce.

In the case of Jean H. Cherot vs. Charles A. Chero', a final decree was also entered granting plaintiff a divorce.

The Man That Made Niagara.

When the first suspension bridge was thrown over Niagara there was a great and tumultuous opening ceremony, such as the Americans love, and many of the great ones of the United States assembled to do honor to the occasion, and among them was Roscoe Conkling. Conkling was one of the most brilliant public men whom America has produced—a man of commanding, even beautiful, presence and of perhaps unparalleled vanity. He had been called (by an opponent) a human peacock. After the ceremonies attending the opening of the bridge had been concluded Conkling, with many others, was at the railway station waiting to depart; but, though others were there, he did not mingle with them, but strutted and plumed himself for their benefit, posing that they might get the full effect of all his majesty.

One of the station porters was so impressed that, stepping up to another who was hurrying by trundling a load of luggage, he jerked his thumb in Conkling's direction and—

"Who's that feller?" he asked. "Is he the man as built the bridge?"

The other studied the great man a moment.

"Thunder! No," said he. "He's the man as made the falls."—H. Perry Robinson in Putnam's Magazine.

Had a Treat For His Wife.

Dr. George Harvey, a local veterinary physician, was called to a stable not long ago to minister to a horse that was down with colic. It was a serious case, and the doctor saw that the only way to save the horse would be to insert a tube in its side and allow the gas on its stomach to escape. Just because he thought it would startle the owner of his horse Harvey struck a match and lighted the gas at the end of the tube. The man didn't say much at the time, but he was properly impressed. He had never heard of using a horse for an illuminating plant. The next day when Dr. Harvey came around to see how the horse was getting along—it was all over the colic then—the owner tapped him on the shoulder.

"My wife was away yesterday," he said, "but she's home now. Just light up the horse again, will you? I want her to see it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Chinese Sun and Moon.

In China the sun and moon are brother and sister. The moon is the elder brother, who looks after his rather silly sister, the sun. This is exactly the reverse of our legends, which make the sun the day king and the gentle moon lady of the night. One day in China, so the legend runs, the sun asked the moon if she couldn't go out at night. The moon answered very sternly: "No. You are a young lady, and it would be improper for you to go out after dark." Then the sun said, "But the people keep looking at me when I go out in the daytime." So the moon told her to take the golden needles that she wore in her hair and stick them into the eyes of people when they stared at her. This is the reason why no one can look at the sun without pain.

Sothern and Laura Keene.

While in New York and before he had made any hit the elder Sothern had a dispute with Laura Keene concerning some trivial affair at a rehearsal, and Miss Keene went into one of her tantrums. After the quarrel on the stage she retired to her dressing room and, still angry, sent for Sothern and began to rate him fiercely.

"Stop, Laura—stop just a minute!" interrupted the comedian, and, advancing to the light, he deliberately turned it down.

"What do you mean by that, sir?" she demanded, in a rage.

"Oh, nothing," replied Sothern, "but you have always been so lovely to me that I can't bear to look upon your beautiful face when you are in a passion. Now go on!"

Spanish Emeralds.

"Fine old Spanish emeralds" is a phrase which means something quite different from what it seems to imply. There never was an emerald mined in Spain, but after the conquest of Peru the conquerors brought home great quantities of loot, of which emeralds formed an important part. In this way the finest emeralds came into possession of the old Spanish families, and as very few had been seen in Europe previous to that time all the best stones soon became classed as fine old Spanish emeralds. Today the expression still applies to the best emeralds of any source.—New York Sun.

Double Proof.

"Do you believe in heredity, Mrs. Simpson?"

"Indeed I do. Every mean trait Bobby has I can trace right back to his father."

"Does his father believe in heredity too?"

"Yes. He traces Bobby's faults all back to me."

Experience.

"Experience," said the wise person, "is the best teacher."

"Yes," answered Mrs. Torkins sadly, "but when it comes to horse races some people go on taking postgraduate courses all their lives."—Washington Star.

Still Cool.

Hook—I understand he married a cool million. Cook—Yes, but he's complaining now because he hasn't been able to thaw out any of it.—Illustrated Bits.

Mabel—And did your grandfather live to a green old age? Jack—Well, I should say so! He was swindled three times after he was seventy.

The French "Mrs. Malaprop."

Calino, the French "Mrs. Malaprop," does not amuse so much by the confusion of his words as by the quaintness and unintended plainness of his remarks. He entered the service of a well known doctor, who, after Calino had been buying hay for his horses for awhile, made up his mind that the hay was worthless.

"That is very poor hay that you've been buying," the doctor complained.

"But the horses eat it, sir," said Calino.

"No matter. It's bad hay."

"Yes, sir," said Calino respectfully. "I'll change it. I know you are a much better judge of hay than the horses are!"

One day the bell rang, and Calino came in.

"A patient has arrived, sir," he reported.

"An old patient or a new one?" asked the doctor.

"New one, of course, sir," said Calino. "The old ones never come back!"

Calino admired very much the beautiful teeth of a lady among his master's patients.

"Ah!" he exclaimed. "Her teeth are as fresh and sound and white as a newborn baby's!"

Idiomatic English.

Mrs. Fremont, in a sketch of her father, Senator Benton, tells the following story of the French bishop at St. Louis at the time of the purchase of Louisiana. She says:

It was a point of honor among the older French not to learn English, but the bishop decided that it would be better to acquire it, especially for use from the pulpit. To force himself into the familiar practice of the language he secluded himself for awhile with the family of an American farmer, where he would hear no French. The experiment proved very successful. Soon he had gained a sufficient fluency to deliver a sermon in English. Senator Benton was present when it was to be given, and his feelings may be imagined as the bishop, a refined and polished gentleman, announced:

"My friends, I'm right down glad to see such a smart chance of folks here today."

Lincoln's History of Himself.

When Abraham Lincoln was elected to congress Charles Lanman, then editor of the Congressional Record, according to the regular custom, forwarded to Mr. Lincoln as well as to all other members elect a blank to be filled out with facts and dates which might be made the basis for a biographical sketch in the directory. Mr. Lincoln's blank was returned promptly, filled up in his own handwriting with the following information:

"Born Feb. 12, 1809, in Hardin county, Ky.

"Education, defective.

"Profession, lawyer.

"Military service, captain of volunteers in the Black Hawk war.

"Offices held: Postmaster at a very small office, four times a member of the Illinois legislature and elected to the lower house of the next congress."

Ancient Waterworks.

Hezekiah, king of Judah, who reigned in the years 717 to 688 B. C., was a pioneer in constructing a system of waterworks, bringing water into the city of Jerusalem. In the holy book we read: "He made the pool and conduit and brought the water into the city, stopping the upper part of Gihon, and brought it straight down to the west side of the city of David. And Hezekiah prospered in all his works." From the "pools of Solomon," near Bethlehem, water was conveyed to Jerusalem, a distance of six or seven miles, through a conduit of earthen pipe about ten inches in diameter. The pipe was incased within two stones, hewn out to fit it, then covered over with rough stones cemented together. Even in those days "boil the water" was a well known injunction.

Alphabetical.

Two commercial travelers in a railway carriage entered into conversation.

One of them tried hard to make the other understand something, but he was either very hard of hearing or slow in believing.

At last his friend lost his temper and exclaimed: "Why, don't you see? It's as plain as A B C!"

"That may be," said the other; "but, you see, I am D E F."

A Fatal Disease.

A celebrated general once inquired of one of his soldiers the cause of his brother's death.

"My brother died, sir," replied the soldier, "because he had nothing to do."

"Well, my man," said the general, "that is reason enough to kill the greatest general of us all."—Exchange.

A Particular Patient.

"Are you sure that is what is the matter with me?"

"Yes, madam."

"Well, you'll have to guess again, doctor. I won't have it. It's too common a complaint."—New York Press.

A Natural Curiosity.

"Do you know what I do when a man offers me advice?" said the curbstone philosopher.

"No."

"Ask him if he's tried it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Suspicious.

The Constable—Yes, your worship, the prisoner is a most suspicious character. The Accused (indignantly)—It's him that's suspeccious. Aw'm no suspeccious o' onybody!—Punch.

The good man prolongs his life. To be able to enjoy one's past life is to live twice.—Martial.
